Shungite neutralizes the toxic effects of harmful waves. This protection does not interfere with network connection of devices and eliminates up to 95% the harmful waves of cordless phones and cell phones.

This stone is unique because of its specific molecular composition, carbon made of Fullerenes (C60). What makes this stone important; its equilibrium properties extend over several energy levels.

It is a perfect shield against radiation and harmful waves (cellular and cordless telephones, computers, Wi-Fi, high voltage lines, smart meters, etc.). This protective power of Shungite has been known in Russia for a very long time. The high protective virtues of Shungite has been used by the Russian military since 1703. It is also used in hospitals with remarkable results. Outside of Russia, this stone was basically unknown, but since 2012 it has been increasingly used in the European Therapeutic Community.

Frequent exposure to harmful waves can develop certain symptoms like: fatigue, stress, irritability, etc.

The products proposed by Anti-Aging Alliance Inc. are based on pure Shungite. It has been cut and refined to increase its efficiency and ease of use. Shungite contains Fullerenes (C60), it is a very rare carbon that has several peculiarities, including protecting us from harmful waves by transforming the negative torsion field into a positive torsion field.
